COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

This is the final week for the payment of overdue 1962 personal property taxes. The delinquent accounts will be turned over to the proper authorities for collection if not paid by June 18. There are a few exceptions and hardship cases but most of these should not require legal steps. If the delinquent taxpayers want to pay the extra fees for forced collection, then they have no one to blame but themselves.

The surfacing program for the summer will begin next week. There is a lot of extra tarring and mulching to do this year because the scheduled work for the past two summers was not completed. Unfortunately we have missed some good tarring weather but there should be some good weather ahead. Anything will be better than last summer.

The road crew has been lowering culverts and clearing ditches while getting the roads ready for tarring. The sanders have been converted so that they can be used for sanding tarred road.

Persons wanting the town to tar their driveways should sign a work authorization permit so that their name can be put on the tarring list.

20 SECONDS with the NAZARENE

The well-known proverb "Like father, like son," has its parallel in the spiritual world as well. Christ said to Philip, "He that hath seen me hath seen the Father." In all our search for understanding about God we can do no better than to meet Christ and see the Father mirrored in the Son.
(Quotation from Jesus, John 14:9)

AMERICAN RESPONSIBILITIES OF TODAY

The following is the address given by Trafton Foster at the annual Memorial Day exercises and printed by request.

It is today most evident to all that the American nation is on a complex and gigantic mission for which all her resources must be utilized. This means added responsibilities for the American citizen, especially responsibility from American interest abroad.

Once though the American role abroad was no burden for its citizens; what happened in Europe and Asia was no concern of ours, secure as we were behind our oceans. Two world wars taught us the folly of this position. If America was not to have to pay in lives and dollars, she would have to be aware and involved in world affairs.

When America realized this in 1945, she assumed the role of world leadership for her safety and the preservation of the free world. First it was necessary to lead the battered nations of Europe against the doctrines of communism. In this, the Truman Doctrine, Berlin Airlift, and twelve billion dollars of the Marshall Plan were used to keep Europe free. When the African and Asian nations moved to premature freedom, America assumed the burden of them also as she did when communism began to move toward South America.

Today America is guarding the whole world. Millions of men and unlimited firepower in ships and planes and missiles keeps the evil of communism from engulfing the whole world. Today this vast establishment is on the alert for danger, and it is likely that today Americans will die guarding the peace, as so many have died in Vietnam this year.

This role also includes seeking to guarantee that social and economic conditions in most of the world will not serve as a breeding ground for communism, and it furthermore leaves the U. S. as the diplomatic chief of the world with her systems of alliances to contain communism, alliances like N. A. T. O. and the O. A. S.

This is a great burden for the nation and as such is a great burden for citizens, giving him many responsibilities which he would not have had not too many years ago.

Some of these are:
The knowledge that only the federal government can provide effective leadership for the many diverse elements on the American scene in such a struggle as is going on.

The responsibility for remaining informed of what is going on abroad in such places as Laos, Kuwait, and Haiti, for in such a democratic society as ours, it is the citizen who makes the long-range foreign policy with his vote, and thus it is necessary that Americans vote in a knowledgeable manner.

And finally the responsibility for paying for these vast programs which when the stakes, the freedom of peoples abroad and thus Americans' freedom, are considered seems much less.

Today I charge you as Americans to be aware of the responsibilities that I have mentioned for the reasons that I have mentioned.

Come hill ... or high water
Vacations go smoother in a Chevrolet Corvair

Bring on those mountains! They're not so high and mighty when you've got Corvair's gully six and rear-engines traction working on them.

You scurry up the meanest grades. You move with sure-footed agility on wet pavement, muddy lanes, gravel and other would-be miseries.

And with most of Corvair's weight on the rear wheels, you have easy steering, too. Fact is, the handling's so light and responsive we don't even offer power steering for the car.

And there's more to feel good about. No problems with your radiator boiling over or going dry, because there's no radiator. Corvair's engine is air cooled. No concern about brake adjustments, either, because the brakes adjust themselves. Nothing much to think about at all except the good time you're having.

Like to do that in a sporty bucket-seated Monza Club Coupe or Convertible? Like to spring into summer with a 4-speed stick shift and Spyder package? With its 150-hp Turbocharged engine? Your dealer's got just the Corvair and the Trade 'N Travel deal on it to put you in a holiday mood.
